

Prophecy of Doom or a Message of Hope

The astrological forecast presented on this website is not a prophecy of doom. All superpowers in the past survived under the astrological conditions similar to 2014-21. Under similar planetary configurations, the Roman, Byzantine, Parthian, Persian, Chinese, Ottoman, Spanish and Russian Empires, all experienced challenges as serious as the present day superpower, the United States, is facing today. They did not collapse under such challenges. Instead, they outlived these challenges for hundreds of years, while managing to maintain political stability, rule of law (however unjust it may appear to us), a considerable progress in arts and sciences and substantial economic growth. They also managed to provide high living standards to least some of their citizens, and so will the United States of America.

The recessions in 2014-21 will impose severe hardship to 10-15% of the U.S. population, as was the case with all other severe economic contractions in the past. The rest of us will have to alter our lifestyle somewhat, but no one will starve. Human beings are resilient, and most of us, rich, poor and in between, will adapt to a new economic realities very fast.

Crisis is an opportunity. Instead of simply coping, you may even prosper in 2014-21. Especially if you do not panic and apply a few simple strategies that will be presented in my forthcoming book, How to Cope with Another Recession with Astrology, Psychology and Common Sense.

Meanwhile, I am available for astrological readings to consult you on how to prepare for the upcoming crisis. I can also consult you on matters of investment, money, business decisions, and relationship and career choices. I am also available for lectures, classes and workshops at your place of work, your church or your professional association. Read more about astrological consulting.
